DR. JENSEN GIVES TALK TO LAUNDRYMEN

The employees of the American Steam Laundry were given a real treat at their special meeting held Thursday morning at the laundry when Dr. C. N. Jensen, president of the Brigham Young College lectured to them on the fundamentals of life and success. Dr. Jensen made a special appeal to employees to always bear in mind that it is their mission to look after the interests of their employers. That they give more to the institution that hires them than they are paid for. That they be genuine in purpose and in principal and that they always see the bright side of every problem. Success is judged by your accomplishment.

The talk was one that appealed strongly to the employees of the American Steam Laundry, and is destined to do much good for the representatives of that institution.

MERRILL'S ENTER GARAGE BUSINESS HERE

William Merrill for 17 years in the machine shop business at Richmond together with his sons J. C. and K. C. Merrill, have opened a new garage in the building on Federal avenue recently vacated by Mollerup & Yonk.

The two Merrill brothers have just returned from a winter spent at Kansas City, where they took an automobile course and traction engine at one of the biggest schools of the kind in the world. They expect to equip this building with modern machinery and will cater to auto repair work. They are well prepared to enter into this business from experience received during the past winter as their diplomas both show.

They expect to carry a line of oils and greases and to be a gasoline service station as well as to supply free air and automobile accessories of all kinds.

The Merrill family will move to Logan and make this their future home.

SPECIAL EASTER SERVICES

Special Easter services will be held at the Sixth ward Sunday School, on Sunday morning April 23. The following program will be rendered:

Address Dr. C. W. Porter
Vocal Selection Mrs. Mamie Stark
Reading Miss Lydia Hansen
Vocal Solo Frank Baugh Jr.
The public are cordially invited.

The anniversary exercises that were supposed to be held Thursday evening April 27 by the Odd Fellows has been postponed on account of the death of Ed Korupkat one of the members.

EAGLE HOTEL CHANGES HANDS

The management of the Hotel Eagle has changed hands, Mrs. M. E. Hanks having signed a lease for the business and took over possession on Thursday. The Fullmer's who have been in charge of the hotel for several months past, have decided to return to St. Anthony and take charge of their hotel business at that place. Mrs. Hanks is well known in Logan as a hotel mistress, having been in that business for the past twenty-five years.

She has started spring house cleaning and expects to conduct a hotel on the same high plan that has always characterized her as a good hotel proprietor. She will extend a warm welcome to her old patrons as well as to new ones.

BAND CONCERT TOMORROW EVE ON THE SQUARE

Complimentary on the part of the Logan Military Band, there is to be a free band concert on the Tabernacle square following Easter services in the Tabernacle tomorrow afternoon. The concert will be given at four o'clock sharp with the full band which is larger and better than ever before.

This introductory concert will give an idea of what the concerts mean to the city and an effort is to be made by the band management to secure the necessary funds to give to Logan the regular semi-weekly band concerts which have grown to be so popular.

To maintain these concerts means the expenditure of approximately $1200. In the past the merchants and business men of the city have put up the funds. This year an appeal is being made to other interests in the city which do not happen to be found in Main street and in the business section, as well as the business interests.

Anyone who feels that he or she would like to contribute to this worthy cause, can write their check, either large or small, in favor of the Commercial Club for the band benefit and turn it over to the club and it will be highly appreciated.

MARRIAGE LICENSES

Bartlett Nash of Franklin and Myrtle Day of Richmond.
Joe A. Jenks of Rabon and Meda Smith of Fairview.
Errol Lynes and Anna McCulloch of Logan.

The speakers at the funeral services for Mrs. Elizabeth Maurer in the Fifth ward on Thursday were Fred Weirman, Eph Schneider, Jos. Moser and Karl Schaub. The opening prayer was offered by Gottlieb Swartz and the benediction pronounced by Fred Gilgen. A solo was sung by Miss Batt and a quartet by Fred Lauser, Adolph Amacher, Miss Serem and Miss Watweller.

GRIFFIN'S TAKE QUAKER AGENCY

The history of automobile tire making has been marked with many refinements and improvements but practically all effort was in the direction of increased mileage until the discovery by the Quaker City Rubber Co., of Philadelphia, of a secret and exclusive method of tempering the rubber, a treatment that not only adds strength and endurance, but also increases the shock absorbing properties of rubber with consequent comfort to passengers and savings in car upkeep cost thru the absorption of vibration.

Tempered rubber is unusually adhesive, a factor of great value in preventing ply separation and in creating an inseparable bond between the tread and the carcass. Tempering prevents the tread picking out or chipping and insures uniformity of wear on the surface of the tread.

The Quaker City Rubber Co., states that Quaker tires are as finely tempered as a watchspring, thereby securing the proper degrees of hardness, toughness, elasticity, resiliency and endurance.

J. P. Griffin of Logan, and U. E. Griffin of Richmond, report a brisk demand for Quaker tires, and state that users enthusiastically endorse them because of their wonderful mileage and easy riding qualities.

Despite the high cost of rubber and fabric, Quaker tires have not been reduced in quality, the same weight and high grade Sea Island, duck, the identical number of plies, and the same amount of the finest rubber are used as was the case before war conditions sent the prices of these commodities skyward.

BARNEY OLDFIELD DRIVES A KING 8

The King Motor Car Company of Detroit Mich., recently received an endorsement from Barney Oldfield in which he expresses his feelings toward the King 8.

Here is Oldfield's unique letter: "I have just been wheeling one of your new Kings. It is some job. No wonder King has made so big an impression; it's a good product. See you are using Firestones. That's a boy. You know me,

(Signed) BARNEY OLDFIELD

The G. W. Lindquist auto hearse has arrived and it certainly is a beauty. It was built by the Sidney Stevens Implement Company of Ogden on a Studebaker chassis and the woodwork was all handcarved. The machine was driven to Logan by Mr. C. R. Spencer and he says that the machine develops a wonderful lot of power. The enclosure is made up of two compartments, the upper one for flowers and the lower compartment for the coffin. The machine is such a nice one we are sure there are a great many people dying to ride in it. It is said to be the best hearse in the state.

ALFRED PICOT DIED SUDDENLY ON THURSDAY

Alfred Picot, known in Logan and Cache Valley as a very wealthy man, his business having been that of loaning money on real estate, died very suddenly at the Utah Idaho hospital on Thursday afternoon at 5:30 o'clock, following a brief illness of pneumonia.

Mr. Picot was only a young man, having reached his 51st birthday anniversary last October. He was born in the Isle of Jersey where all his near kin folk live. He is survived by a wife and nine children and his wife's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Mello.

The suddenness of his death comes as a shock to his family who had no idea that his condition was so bad.

Every possible attention was given him by the city's most skilled physicians. However, the end came as above stated.

Mr. Picot started in the loaning business in a small way thirty years ago. The way his business has been carried on chiefly was by contract for deed on property as security for money loaned to clients. It is roughly estimated that his estate is worth upwards of $200,000 to $400,000.

During the life of Mr. Picot he has been blind, and to some it seems nothing short of miraculous that he should accumulate such a large estate.

Deceased has been a liberal man with his means in many ways. He has contributed to the poor when he has been appealed to for assistance. He has been very lenient with persons who have borrowed money from him, at times when it was hard for them to meet their obligations. In the conduct of his business he has made friends the county over.

Funeral services will be held in the Fourth ward meeting house on Sunday at 12 o'clock. Friends are cordially invited to attend.

ED. KORUPKAT PASSES AWAY

Edward Korupkat, well known business man of Logan, died very suddenly yesterday afternoon from heart failure.

Mr. Korupkat was born 53 years ago in East Prussia, Germany. He emigrated to this country when he was 17 years of age and lived for a number of years in Glenwood Springs Colo., from there he moved to Salt Lake where he lived for seven years. He came to Logan about eleven years ago and had been interested in several enterprises during his stay in this community. He was a prominent member of the Odd Fellows lodge.

During the performance at the B. Y. College, Thursday night someone stole Hyrum Hayball's Ford automobile No. 6773. The officers are looking for the stolen car.

SPURIOUS STOCK JOBBERS TO BE INVESTIGATED

Commercial Club Adds New Names to Its Membership. Included Are Out of Town Names

At the regular monthly meeting of the Commercial Boosters Club held Wednesday, April 19, the following applicants were unanimously elected as members of the club: George Romney Jr., Smithfield; J. W. Hendricks, Richmond; Charles G. Hyde, Hyde Park; Eugene Schaub, W. O. Darby; Hugh Williams, R. L. Harmon, L. D. Naisbett, Joseph G. Salisbury, and Dr. W. I. McNeil, Logan. The committee was congratulated for securing such a good class of men for membership in the club. Other prominent men in the county and city will be asked to join and work on the various committees to help build up the valley as a whole.

The presidency asked that an investment committee be named to investigate various companies which come from the outside to sell stock and to protect the public from purchasing spurious stock. It was reported that hundreds of dollars have gone out of the valley in the past for worthless stocks and projects. It was decided that such a committee be named.
